

EchoMetrics Service Testimonials

"SonoNet is the cardiovascular ultrasound provider for 185 medical offices in five states. Though we have our own cardiologists we have turned to Echometrics for most of our clients' Echocardiogram interpretations. Echometrics, under the direction of Jim Seward MD provides us with a high quality, uniform product, and consistently provides rapid turn around which our client doctors appreciate.

Jim Seward has organized a great service that assures us of a report that conforms to our practices' needs and is supported by the reputation of one of the world's foremost authorities in CV Ultrasound. Dr. Seward himself is always available and concise bringing vast experience in the field as well as a depth of knowledge that is incomparable in all aspects of cardiovascular ultrasound.

The Echometrics team has been exceptional to work with in this partnership. They visited our facility, met our sonographers, and taught them a great deal, giving us new ideas to apply in our development. They have also given us quality feedback that helped us grow and adapt to the changing landscape of cardiovascular ultrasound.

I recommend Echometrics to anyone who wants the highest quality interpretation. In these times as reimbursements are falling making reading more challenging, and considering the critical responsibilities we have, we are fortunate to have Echometrics sharing our workload. Not only is our work reduced, we know that the means of getting the work done is in the hands of experts. At the end of our day we have the confidence that we've partnered with the best to insure that patients are cared for responsibly. Given the options, we wanted Jim Seward and the Echometrics team interpreting our patients' studies and we have been extremely happy with that decision."
